Anglesea Barracks Officers Mess

Inspector of Police Colin Riley

'The role of the Tasmanian Police force in the security of Tasmania and Military/Police coordination'

Colin Riley will talk about the role of the Tasmanian Police in dealing with key security concerns, and how Military/Police coordination works

Since joining the Tasmanian Police in 1994, Colin has occupied positions in the Special Operations Group (including deployment at the Port Arthur Massacre 1996), Criminal Investigation Branch, Drug Investigation Services, Corporate Review Services and Human Resources including positions in recruitment, training, learning and development, staff support and staffing services. He has been an Inspector of Police since October 2008. He was posted into the demanding role as a Detective Inspector (2009-2014), whilst the Commanding Officer of 12/40 RTR.

He was elected by the Tasmania Police officers as the President of the Police Association of Tasmania and commenced in this role on 1 January 2019 - whilst retaining his rank as an Inspector of Police. He is now the Inspector at the Kingston Police Division.

He has completed a Master of Management Defence Studies (2003), Bachelor of Social Science (2006), Graduate Certificate Police Studies (2007), Graduate Certificate in Applied Management [Policing and Emergency Services] (2017) and invited and awarded membership of the Academic International Golden Key Society (2009).

In his Australian Army Reserve career he attained the rank of Colonel and was the principal plans officer for the Australian Army Reserves on the Headquarters 2nd Division based in Sydney. He was the Honorary Aide de camp to the Governor of Tasmania 1998 to 2002.

The Presentation will start at 7pm, drinks and nibbles from 6.30pm
